Number of Jobless In State is Unknown

By the United Press How many persons in California are looking for a job? Your guess is as good as another's, says Will J. French, director of industrial relations. The federal census figures last April put the number at 172,556. Another estimate of 300,000 has been made. Steps toward an unemployment survey in California are now under way, French said, in order to obtain a more accurate guide to the present unemployment crisis.

"MEN OF THE NORTH" WILL PLAY FRIDAY

"Men of the North," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's adventure romance of the North woods, is the attraction coming Friday and Saturday to the Torrance theater, with Albert Roland and Barbara Leonard heading a large cast of well-known players. Personally directed by Hal Roach, well-known producer, the new picture is based on a powerful dramatic plot by Willard Mack. Mack is best known for "Gang Wars," "The Common Sin" and "Kluge In," all of which were Broadway hits. The play deals with the adventure of Louis the Fox, French Canadian trapper, wrongly suspected of theft and dogged through the snows by the Northwest Mounted sergeant, Mooney. His love for the Montreal heroine, and his adventures in the snow lands, he rescue of his pursuer at the risk of his own life and freedom, and other incidents abound in the vivid romance of the French Canadian wilds.

"RIVER'S END" OPENING AT WARNER BROS. SAN PEDRO

Charles Bickford in "River's End," from the story by James Oliver Curwood, opening at Warner Bros. Theater, San Pedro, today.

The tremendous novel popularity of "River's End," Warner Bros. Vitaphone version of the famous Curwood novel, opening at Warner Bros. San Pedro theater today, is considered definite proof that stories of action, hardship and romance in the far corners of the world have not lost their universal appeal. "River's End" is a dramatic story of the great northwest where life is treated lightly and romance seriously. It brings to the screen Charles Bickford in his first dual role and in the kind of a part that he loves to play. It brings Evelyn Knapp, David Torrence, J. Farrell McDonald, Zasu Pitts and Junior Coughlan in roles that give them the finest opportunities of their lives. "River's End" is an action picture. There is suspense and there are thrills in plenty and romance and danger lurking side by side. It is powerful drama among strong willed people and tremendous spectacle against the background of the unfriendly ice of the Arctic circle. Michael Curtis directed "River's End" and banks his reputation on the claim that it is one of the finest pictures of the year. Vitaphone varieties include Hal Skelly in "The Gob," with Madge Evans, Chester Conklin in "The Master Sweeper," Toby the Pup cartoon and Warner Bros. News Events.

ELEANOR BOARDMAN and JOHN MACK BROWN in "THE GREAT MEADOW"

Hardships, love and comedy in one of the very earliest periods of American pioneer life is the theme and background of "The Great Meadow," which plays at the Fox Redondo theater Friday and Saturday, February 6 and 7. The story is a swiftly moving one. Its first portion concerns itself with Indian fights and other difficulties of the long wilderness road. The acting is well-paced. John Mack Brown is extremely convincing as the daring Berk Jarvis while Eleanor Boardman has moments of great dramatic importance in her impersonation of a frontier wife.
